The Future of SmartLab International

Diversification of Revenue Streams

By carrying out market-spread trading in more fields of sports such as basketball, baseball and horse racing, SmartLab International can capitalize on the different seasonality and betting dynamics of each sport.

In the case of trading on financial markets, trading can be carried out 24/7 in some cases.

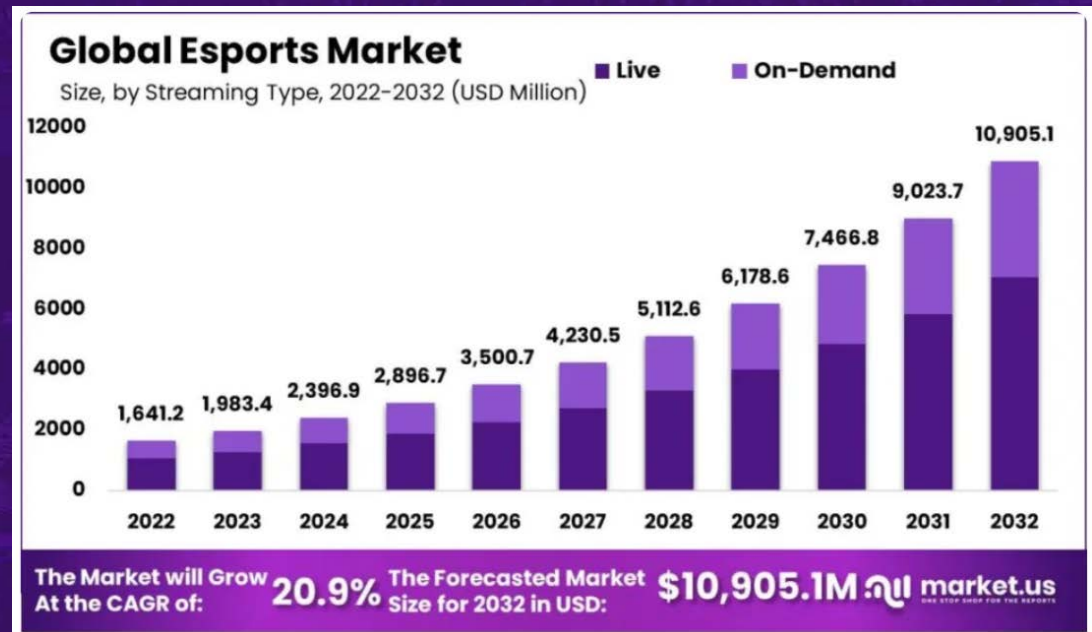

Such a move will reduce reliance on one single sport and allow for consistently higher profit generation throughout the year.

Market Cap in Esports

- In 2024, the projected revenue in the Esports Betting market is estimated to reach US $2.5B. With millions of fans worldwide, esports betting offers a unique and engaging experience that is appealing to casual gamers and serious bettors.
- Majority of the Sportsbook around the world includes Esports into their site.
